And know we drink it but in vision. 'Tis sad to dream of buried loves, Of passion's old and burning story,

Whose breathing shade our spirit moves, And gives us back our youthful glory. To think we clasp again the charms That in our youth we wildly c erished; And wake to find our yearning arms Had held one who in girlhood perished.

Tis sad to think of blasted hopes, Bright flowers that in their morning faded, And how poor man in sadness gropes Along the path they darkly shaded—

To think how strange is now his lot

From what his youthful fancy painted; And how high hopes are all forgot, When they with worldliness are tainted.

Franklin, Indiana.

A writer in vesterday morning's Journal complains bitterly of the depredations of stragglers from the camps in this city upon the barnvards and store houses of the country. It is impossible entirely to prevent this, when so many men are kept in idleness as are now in the several camps, and it must be accepted as one of the evils of a state of war. In the city we have lately heard few complaints against the soldiers. The great majority of them seem to be gentlemenly, well-behaved men.

SET YOUR BRAINS TO WORK -The principal cause of the high price of wood is the scarcity of hands to cut it. Can't this be obviated? Can't some ingenious mechanic invent or arrange some contrivance by which cord wood can be sawed from trees by horse power? MEDICAL. TO THE PEOPLE

Of the United States. In the month of December, 1858, the undersigned to the first time offered for sale to the public Dr. J. Hovee Dods' Imperial Wine Bitters, and in this short period they have given such universal setisfaction to the many thousands of persons who have tried them that it is now an established article. The amount of bodily and mental misery arising simply from a neglect of small complaints is surprising, and it is therefor of the utmost importance that a strict attention to the

from all who have not used them. We challenge the world to produce their equal. These Bitters for the cure of WEAR STOMACHS, GENERAL DERILITY, and for PURIFYING and ENRICHING the BLOOD, are tery dusurpassed by any other remedy on earth. To be assured of this, it is only necessary to make the trial. The Wine itself is of a very superior quality, being about one-third stronger than other wines: warming and invigorating the whole system from the head to the feet. As these Bitters are tonic and alterative in their character, so they strengthen and invigorate the whole system and give a fine tone and healthy action to all its parts. by equalizing the circulation, removing obstructions, and producing a general warmth. They are also excellent for Diseases and Weakness peculiar to Females, where a Tonic is required to strengthen and brace the system. No lady who is subject to lassitude and
